

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Camp-In is the ultimate indoor camping experience for girls and boys at COSI! Camp-In began in 1972 as a partnership between COSI and the Girl Scouts –Seal of Ohio Council and welcomed its millionth participant in 2009. Over the years, it has expanded to include councils in Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, and other various groups. More than 100 science centers and zoos internationally now emulate COSI's Camp-In program at their own institutions.

Camp-In Day Programs are held from late January through May on Saturdays and Sundays. Each year Camp-In presents a different themed experience on a science topic.

Frequently Asked Questions:

Can siblings or friends attend?

COSI's Day Program is specially designed for children in grades K-3 to explore science in a safe, fun environment. Siblings and friends outside the Day Program age range (younger than kindergarten) cannot be accommodated at COSI Day Programs and are not permitted. Siblings and friends within the Day Program age range (or older) are welcome to attend as paid members of your group. Guests arriving with children outside the Day Program age range may not be able to participate and will not be given a refund. Additional family members or Guests may accompany your group to COSI and purchase general admission. However, these Guests will not be permitted in the workshop areas and cannot eat the lunch provided for Day Program participants. Also, please note that on Sundays COSI does not open to the public until noon so any Guests hoping to explore the building on Sunday cannot do so until that time. If your group is co-ed please let us know before you arrive. Please call 614.228.2674 with any questions. Thank you for helping make COSI's Camp-In a memorable experience for all our guests!
