

Brent Bahhub is a Managing Director and Control Officer Executive, supporting Consumer and Community Banking. He leads a multi-disciplinary team to identify and create regulatory-required content for all customer-facing communications. Previously, Brent led an internal consulting team that developed fact-based insights and recommendations to improve controls, reduce costs, increase customer satisfaction, and increase revenue.

Prior to joining J.P. Morgan Chase, Brent was the Director of Business Intelligence at First Niagara Bank and held various leadership positions at National City Bank, including Group Manager for Corporate Banking Deposit Products, Non-Earning Assets Manager, and CFO of Operations and Information Services. He has nearly 25 years of financial services industry and consulting experience.

His book, "Activity-Based Management for Financial Institutions: Driving Bottom Line Results" is part of the SAS Business Series and focuses on driving change through information use. Early in his career, Brent co-authored four patents during his tenure at IBM.

Brent earned his MBA from Columbia Business School and his B.S. in Electrical Engineering from the University of Wisconsin. In addition to his work with COSI, he is Chase's Executive Sponsor for a multi-year effort with the LeBron James Family Foundation and serves on the Finance Committee for the Mid-Ohio Food Bank.

Brent and his beautiful wife and family currently reside in Dublin, Ohio.
