HUNGRY PLANET: WHAT THE WORLD EATS

Photography Exhibition

Photographer Peter Menzel and writer Faith D’Aluisio sat down to dinner with 30 families in 24 different countries. Stories, grocery lists, and photos of each family surrounded by a week's worth of groceries give us snapshots to compare these families with ourselves.

The exhibit is comprised of 82 photos (30 family portraits, 52 daily life images), 30 family captions, and 30 family grocery lists.

Requirements:
- 300 linear feet (can be reduced to accommodate smaller venues)
- $1,000 per month (minimum 3 months) plus shipping
- Companion book available to sell in the gift shop

Previous Venues:
COPIA: The American Center for Wine, Food and the Arts, Napa
Museum of Science & Industry, Chicago
Exploris Kids Museum, Raleigh
Museum of the African Diaspora, San Francisco
COSI, Columbus

Available: 2015-2018

Contact:
Josh Kessler
jkessler@cosi.org
(614) 629-3181
www.cosi.org/sales-rentals